From the Elementary Office

by Beverly Deis
Elem. Principal

It has been a good start to the new school year at Polo R-VII Elementary. We have many new students in the elementary. Open House was a fun evening and it was a success with over 95% of the parents in attendance. Thank you for your support! Just a reminder, the school day begins at 8:20. Elementary students who are eating breakfast need to arrive at school in plenty of time to eat and get to class on time. Elementary students may begin eating at 7:45, but if they are not eating breakfast, we ask they arrive at 8:00 because we have no one on supervision in the Multi Purpose Room until 8:00.

Students in the elementary have been busy with classroom assignments as well as other activities. The elementary students are currently participating in the annual Parent Teacher Organization (PTO) fundraiser. The Kindergarten students have had a bus safety assembly while sitting on the bus discussing appropriate bus behavior. Other assemblies scheduled for September include the Boomerang Jack Assembly sponsored by Ameren UE and an Aviation Educational Assembly sponsored by the Federal Aviation Administration. We will also practice our tornado drill and fire drill in September. During September we will celebrate Grandparent's Day, Patriot Day, Constitution Day, and Parent/Family Involvement Week. Dental Screening has also been scheduled for students in grades K-4. Students and staff will be observing Fire Prevention Week beginning on October 4 followed by School Lunch Week and Custodial Appreciation Week beginning October 11. School Bus Safety Week begins on October 18 followed by National Red Ribbon Week which begins on October 25.

If you see a note in your child's planner that says, "See Mrs. Deis," it just means your child gets the opportunity to come to the office and visit with me a bit and he/she will receive a surprise (usually a book mark, pencil, etc). This gives me an excellent opportunity to visit with each child in grades K-4.

The end of the first quarter will end on October 16 with Parent-Teacher Conferences being held on October 22. Mark your calendars for Parent Teacher Conference! Communication between home and school is a vital part of a successful education, and it is my hope that all teachers and parents strive for open communication. Communication is offered with the daily planners (agendas), emails, letters, phone calls, and the parent portal via the internet. I cannot stress how important it is for parents to look at and sign the planners every night. It is important for your child(ren) to see you are interested in what is going on at school in regard to their classroom assignments.

We will soon begin our tutoring sessions for students who need some assistance with reading under the No Child Left Behind Act. I will be contacting parents on an individual basis. If you would like more information on the No Child Left Behind Act, please call me at the school.

Students in grades 1-6 will be taking the fall version of the Gates McGinitie Reading Assessment. The results from these tests, along with the STAR assessments, give us a better idea of the reading level of our students. For more information on these tests, please talk with your child's classroom teacher.

As we finish out the first quarter, I hope we all stay focused on education for our students. The students need support from home and from school. If we all work together, we will have a successful school year.

MEET THE PRESS

Katelyn Sanders (Co-Editor)

My name is Katelyn Sanders and I'm one of the new editors on the Yearbook staff. This will be my senior year at Polo High. While attending Polo I have been involved in: Cheerleading, Softball, Basketball, Academic Team, SADD, FCCLA, Student Council, National Honor Society, and FBLA. Leadership roles I have attained are: a senior Captain for softball, Student Council treasurer, and FBLA president. I enjoy hanging out with my friends, listening to music, and going to the movies.

Kaylie Sorenson (Co-Editor)

Hello, my name is Kaylie Sorensen. I'm a junior at Polo High School this year. I am one of the new editors. I am my junior class's Vice President. Currently, I am in Art Club and SADD. Later in the year, I'm hoping to manage the girls' basketball team and the track team. When I graduate in two years, my plans are to go to Northwest College. My major will be Journalism. It's always been my dream to be a journalist, so being on the newspaper staff is kind of like a "dream come true" to be all cheesy and sentimental. I live with my mother, Toni Sorensen, and former Polo graduate (and my sister), Cassie Sorensen.

Rita Stottlemire (Photo Editor)

My name is Rita Stottlemire and I am a senior at Polo High school. My parents are Brenda Witherspoon and David Stottlemire. My sister is Nikita Stottlemire and a former Polo Panther student. I'm the photo editor in Mass Media, the President of FCCLA, the Secretary of FBLA, and the Vice-President of my senior class. I am also planning on being a boy's basketball manager for the second time. I spend a quantity of my time waitressing at the Red Rooster. When I'm not at school or at work I enjoy being with my friends and family.

My name is Paige Ahart. I am a senior at Polo High School and I am a photo editor for Mass Media. Some of the extra-curricular activities I'm involved in include football cheerleading, basketball manager, National Honor Society Reporter, Student Council, FFA Treasurer, and FBLA Vice President. When I'm not busy studying at school, I work at HyKlas in Polo.

Brittney McGinley

Hello my name is Brittney Leann McGinley; I am a senior at Polo High School. I have played many sports including softball, volleyball, basketball, and my favorite, track, although I am only currently in track this year. Throw the shot put and discus but I am a lot better in the shot put. I have taken first at numerous track meets and I have taken first at state my freshman year and my junior year, my sophomore year I took second place. My goals for this year is to break the state record and the school record, I strongly believe that I can accomplish these goals. I have received the MSHAA excellence award for being in all three sports and maintaining a GPA of 3.0 or higher. I also am a wrestling manager for Coach Johnson our Athletic Director.

Other than sports I have been in FCCLA and S.A.D.D., I am currently in FBLA also, I am in Mass Media and I am a member of Student Council. I have qualified for the honor roll all three years and am planning to do the same this year. I don't really have any hobbies besides homework. I have a little brother that is in eighth grade and another brother that is four months old. My mother is in college getting her RN. That is pretty much me in a nutshell.

Linda Pilger

Hello! My name is Linda Pilger. I am a Senior at Polo High School. This will be my first year in Mass Media and I am really excited for it. I am Vice-President of SADD, the Senior class Secretary, and Secretary of FFA. I am also a member of the Polo Christian Youth Group and National Honor Society.

I have 2 siblings, Alex, who is a second grader, Ariel, who is in Preschool. My future plans are to attend Maple Woods then to transfer to William Jewell. I plan on becoming a Registered Nurse.

Dillon Hufford

Hello my name is Dillon Hufford. I am currently a junior at Polo High School. During high school I have been involved in basketball, football, track, FFA, and mass media.

Alex Templeton

Hey! I'm Alex Templeton! As a junior here at Polo, I am involved in many activities which include FFA, FBLA, NHS, Mass Media, basketball, and track. After I graduate in 2011, I plan on attending the University of Missouri in Columbia, and my major is undecided. My parents are Mark and Kim Templeton, and I have a younger sister, Emily Templeton, who is a sophomore. In my spare time, I enjoy hanging out with my family, fishing, hunting, and watching and playing any and all sports.

Are You Prepared?

by Kyle Ross

High School
Principal

Mental Preparation is not an every once in a while occurrence when you are trying to be successful at something. You have to constantly make yourself aware of what you can be doing to put yourself in the best possible position to succeed in your endeavors, whether they be school, sports, or just life in general. I believe that three basic principles can help you become better prepared mentally to tackle life's tough situations. In each of the next three Panther Pride editions I am going to give you my thoughts on the matter and I would like you to try and apply them to standardized testing, athletics, and life in general.

Number one is getting rid of your fear of losing. Losing is part of winning and losing at something does not necessarily make you a "loser." Losing is a fact of life and all successful people (businessmen, athletes, honor roll students, etc.), have recognized this fact and see failure as just a minor obstacle, or a "little bump in the road," and nothing more. The reason many of you reading this do not perform as well as you might like (Standardized Tests, sports, decision making, etc.) is because you allow yourself to get extremely nervous, due to the fact that you are afraid to lose. The bottom line is in order to fix that problem we as a society, have to admit to it existing. Everyday on television you can see athletes that make millions of dollars "choke," so it should be easy for us to recognize that everyone in our district could fail or "choke" in a tense situation (job interviews, public speaking, MAP testing, athletic contests, etc.). It is something that everybody must try to work through and overcome PRIOR to the event.

When you are afraid to lose, the thought of losing consumes you. When this happens your body and mind will tighten up and you will not be able to do anything close to your full potential. You have to mentally train yourself to know that something bad could happen, so just accept it and move forward. The greatest boxers in the world expect to get hit because they have trained themselves to accept it as part of the process of achieving their goal. By doing this the boxer is never shocked when he gets hit, he just takes it and keeps moving on. The best do not care about the hit, the "bump in the road," they only care about getting to the final destination. They have learned to simply let the fear of losing go.

You can make the fear of losing go away by focusing on HOW you win and HOW you lose. Your goal should include being the most "determined" and most "prepared" person "competing." If you can do that, then winning/accomplishing goals will take care of itself. You also need to realize that if you did the absolute best that you could then you can still "lose," but be extremely proud of yourself due to your effort and determination.

So, when I say that you need to accept the fact that everyone loses in life, my intention is that you will no longer be fearful and paralyzed by your fear of failing. Remember, losing is not what hurts you, being afraid and ashamed of losing does. People generally are hardest on themselves, so we have to help each other shake off the fear. We must as a community, accept that the only way to move ahead educationally, athletically, and socially is to come to the conclusion that we are not afraid of losing at anything, we are just going to accept that it can happen, learn from it, and narrow our focus to try and eliminate it from happening to us again.

Kindergarten Readiness Meeting September 24th

Have you ever asked yourself the question, when should I start preparing my child for kindergarten? The answer is NOW, it's never too early to start...being ready for kindergarten is a developmental process that begins at birth! Do ever wonder what your child will need to know before starting school? The answer to that question will be addressed at a Kindergarten Readiness meeting sponsored by Parents As Teachers, on Thursday, September 24th at 6:30 pm, in the school library. The evening will include a presentation from kindergarten teachers Connie Hogan and Sherrie Silvey on being ready for school; parents will also have an opportunity to ask questions and do hands-on activities with their child.

Whether your child is an infant, toddler, or preschooler... come learn what you can do at home to help build a foundation for the concepts and skills your child will need in kindergarten.

For more information please contact Jamy Aubrey, PAT Coordinator at 354-2200 ext. 114.

Homecoming Week

by Rita Stottlemire

Staff Writer

Homecoming will be Friday, September 18. The homecoming parade is always a big event for Polo. Everyone comes to watch the Polo Marching Band and our Flag Corp girls, the football team, the cheerleaders, and lots of other people and organizations. The most exciting part of the parade for most Polo students is the high school's homecoming floats.

The float and hallway decoration theme is board games. Polo tried a new approach to assigning each grades' game. Instead of having the grades choose which one they wanted, they drew from a selection of games from a bucket. The seniors drew first and pulled out Scrabble. Juniors drew Monopoly and sophomores drew Sorry. The freshman class drew Battleship. Each grade is planning out their ideas and is excited to get started decorating and building there hallways and floats.

After the parade the football players, cheerleaders and band members will hurry back to the school to prepare for the biggest event of homecoming night, the game. The Panthers are playing the King City Wildkats this year. Make sure to come out and support your Polo Panther football players.

On Saturday, September 19 the Polo High School students will celebrate a week of hard work. Curtis Floray is the DJ for the Homecoming dance on Saturday. He is sure to provide lots of fun music for the students to dance to. When entering into the dance there will be a three dollar admission fee. Becky Bolling will be the photographer there for students to get their picture taken. Prices vary on which packet is purchased.

Homecoming is always a chaotic but fun time of year for Polo students. The hallway and float decorations take huge amounts of time, planning and creativity for successful results. For the football players this is one of the most important games of the season, expectantly the hard work and long practices will pay off. This will be the last homecoming game for the senior football players, which is usually emotional for them. Nevertheless, Homecoming will be exciting and create amazing memories for everyone.

Kindergarten Classes Celebrate Grandparents Day

by Sherie Silvey
Teacher

The Kindergarten Classes held a special program for Grandparents / guest, on Friday September 11. The students and guest began the festivity with the "Pledge of Allegiance" and song, "This Land is Your Land". Then the kindergartners went on to entertain with "The Nursery Rhyme Rap", "Going on a Cool Bear Hunt" and "My Mother is a Baker". Approximately 60 guest attended.

Grandparent 's Day

by Kaylie Sorenson
Staff Writer

Turn up your hearing aids Grandparents of Polo! Just like there is a Mother's Day and a Father's Day, there is a day dedicated to the people who spoil your children the most, the grandparents. Mr. Newhart, our schools superintendent, is one of those lucky grandparents. I sat down with him in his office for a brief chat about the splendors of grandparenthood. "It's rewarding," he smiles as he leans back in his office chair, "You forget what it's like when your own kids were that age." It's notorious for grandparents to spoil their grandkids. When asked if this is true, Mr. Newhart laughs. "No doubt you get to spoil them." Mr. Newhart touches more on the tender aspects of being a grandparent. "When your day is stressful, and you come home to hold that baby in your arms, your troubles just wash away." When asked about how shocking it is to find out that you are a grandparent, Mr. Newhart laughs once again. It just kind of hits you. You don't feel old enough to be a grandparent." He smiles widely. Polo R-7's Kindergarten class is celebrating this day on Sept. 11th around 2:20 p.m. in the Multi-Purpose room. The first graders are celebrating as well around the same time the following Monday in the classrooms. It's a day that most grandparents hopefully won't forget.

Middle School Softball Off to a Great Start!

by Bridget Zabel
Coach

The middle school girls' softball team has kicked off their 2009 season. Some girls attended a camp this summer, put on by the Polo Softball Coaching Staff, and have been working hard ever since. This year's team is small in numbers, but mighty in spirit. They have played one game so far this fall against Stanberry. It was a great learning experience for the first game, and has pushed the girls to improve over the course of the season. This year's team consists of: 8th graders- Amber Adams, Ashley Adams, Kaitlyn Adams, and Kylee Eaglen; 7th graders- Adriana Segar, Cati Boruch, Jennifer Rash, Jessica Farmer, Brooke Jones, Sidney Copeland, and Danielle Allen. They are coached by Greg Keith and Bridget Zabel.

Their next home softball game will be September 17th at 5:30 p.m. against Princeton. The middle school girls' will be traveling to Cameron, Saturday September 19th for a Round Robin Tournament beginning at 9:00 a.m. Please come out and support your Polo Middle School Athletics! Go Panthers!

Lady Panther Softball

by Katelyn Sanders
Staff Writer

Softball season is already in full swing and the Lady Panthers record is 2 - 3. The first game was against Norborne and a good start to the season. The girls played hard but the game ended Pirates on top 2 -6. Next the Panthers faced North Platte going all the way to the 7th inning with a tied score of 1-1. North Platte batted last and the Panthers defense didn't quite hold, leaving the final score of 1-2, North Platte. As the week continued the Panthers entered their first conference game against the Stanberry Bulldogs. Defensively and offensively the Panthers struggled, putting up their first conference loss. The Panthers showed no defeat and came prepared for the second conference game facing off against Worth County. Polo was fighting hard defensively but the Bulldogs were battling back. At the end of the 4th inning the score was 2-4. The Panthers weren't going to back down as Nikki Junco stepped to the plate. She hit a double and two runs scored, tying it up. The crowd went wild and the Panthers started a rally ending the game 10 - 4, receiving their first conference win of the season. The Panthers weren't going to stop there and turned their first win into a 2-0 streak against the Stet Cardinals, winning 12-0 in the 5th inning. Come out and be a part of the crowd, cheering our Lady Panthers on to another victory!

Homecoming Traditions

by Alex Templeton
Staff Writer

Homecoming has been a tradition at Polo for as long as anyone can remember, and that tradition is still going strong. Every year, homecoming is held somewhere between September and October, with this year's date being Sept. 18, not much has changed. This is a great opportunity for students, teachers, fans, and alumni to show their spirit and cheering on the Panthers. "Homecoming brings the entire school together, not only to watch a football game, but to show school and community spirit."

Although each year is a little different from the last, the same traditions are held each year. For example, there is always spirit week, a parade, a football game, and a dance. One tradition during spirit week at the school takes place among the students. There is an annual competition between each grade of decorating their part of the hallway, and building a float to be in the parade. Annually, a theme is chosen for them to match their hallways and floats to, which this year's theme is 'Board Games.' Coach Keith looks forward to spirit week because "Homecoming brings the entire school together, not only to watch a football game, but to show school and community spirit."

Another successful tradition takes place the night before the football game; a pep-rally and bonfire is held by the school. The pep-rally is a perfect opportunity for the cheerleaders to pump up the crowd full of fans, students, and football players. Games, cheers, and chants are very effective for getting everyone ready for the next day's game. At the bonfire after the pep-rally, a more serious atmosphere is displayed. This is the time for coaches to give speeches. They usually focus on teamwork, and just how important a victory is, and what it means to be a Polo Panther.

Next, the crowning of the Homecoming King and Queen has been a standing tradition from year to year, and is still present. Two people are chosen from each class from ninth to eleventh grade to represent their class. These students are known as princes and princesses. The senior class has six representatives; three boys and three girls. The Homecoming King and Queen are chosen from the senior class. The king receives a decorated football, and a medal, while the queen receives a bouquet of flowers and a tiara.

In conclusion, there are many homecoming traditions. Some of them have died down, or changed but some have held through the years, and still are present today. Students from every grade and fans of every age enjoy the homecoming festivities, and that is one tradition that will not fade away.

Panther Football Recap

by Dillon Hufford
Staff Writer

As we all know our Panthers have major talent; however they have not been able to show these talents to their full potential. On August 28th the Panthers had their season opener at home against the North Platte Panthers. Unfortunately, the home team came up short. First half, Polo was ready for the challenge of winning this game. During the second half, they were down by a few but didn't show any sympathy but there game was lost. The leading rusher for the Polo Panthers was the starting running back, junior Logan Dixon who had 18 carries for 131 yards. Senior Dalton Rardon had 11 carries for 63 yards.

On September fourth, Polo played the Princeton Tigers in Princeton. The Panthers came out strong, pumped up and ready to fight, leading the first half. Second half, a little winded, starting tight end Ashton Shelton who is a sophomore had a blocked kick and an interception. The leading rushers for the Panthers were starting running back Logan Dixon, who is a junior, with 12 carries for 57 yards. Another starting running back for the Panthers, Nick Allen, who is a junior with nine, carries for 24 yards.

Coach Johnson reflects back to the past two games and feels "that the effort has been there but we need to become more consistent and develop leaders within".

Panther Band Ready for the Big Show

by Katelyn Sanders
Staff Writer

Homecoming is only weeks away and Polo High is in full preparation mode! The Panther Band has been working hard for the entire summer to train for this event. Flag Corp Captain, Karlie Schafer said, "we went to numerous days of a 4 hour long band camp to prepare; it should be a great show!" But not only is the Flag Corp ready and pumped but so is band director Mr. Dunker. When talking about the half-time show he said, "the band has grown since last year and is constantly improving. We've put together a Motown theme with some great songs. I'm pretty excited." So what exactly do we have in store for Homecoming?

Drum Major Maddy Misel commented that, "the half-time performance should be exciting, filled with upbeat music. I can't wait to see how our first performance goes". Walking down the hall first hour you can hear the music being play and it gets your Panther Spirit going! We're all excited here at Polo High to see what the band can do. So come out to Homecoming on September 18th and watch the show!
